To whom it may concern:

I have had the pleasure of working with Lois Kagan Mingus and Joanie Fritz Zosike of Action Racket Theatre. They are two immensely talented artists whose passion for their work and dedication to it, help others to achieve reaching into their artistic souls. As a manager responsible for coordinating therapeutic activities and helping clients to maintain a quality of life, it is my job to evaluate effort, execution, and effectiveness from performers. I can honestly say that Lois and Joanie exceeded the bar in these three areas. My clients, who range in age from 38 to 91 years old, were all very impressed. They took part in "Tailored Tales," a fantastic radio play that included something to suit everyone.

Not only are Lois and Joanie extremely talented, but they both possess the rare and unique skill of reaching a wide audience of people regardless of age, race, religion, sex, or ethnicity. I am currently working with Lois and Joanie as they continue to put together material for my clients. They are a dynamic duo with a versatile repertoire. I strongly recommend that other establishments utilize their services.
